

18
Jul
2011

Elizabeth Krumbach Keynoting at Fosscon in Philadelphia Saturday 23 July 2011

LinuxForce Systems Administrator, Elizabeth Krumbach will deliver the keynote address this Saturday, 23 July 2011 at FOSSCON. Her talk entitled “Make a Difference for Millions: Getting Involved with FOSS” will help attendees better understand how to contribute to the greater good by participating more actively in FOSS (Free and Open Source Software).

FOSSCON will be held at Basekamp, 723 Chestnut street, 2nd floor; Philadelphia, PA. The doors open at 8 AM on Saturday. Elizabeth’s talk starts at 10 AM. The other talks follow her keynote. A listing of speakers at FOSSCON and the schedule is on-line here. Register to attend FOSSCON for free \(no charge!\) to learn about the excitement of FOSS in Philadelphia!

I am looking forward to the event. I hope to see you there!

LinuxForce is a sponsor of FOSSCON.

Posted by CJ Fearnley in Conference, FOSS Community, News, 0 comments